

Learning at Home & Fun Engagement Strategies

Why is Learning at Home Important?

- Reinforces school learning in a relaxed setting
- Builds confidence and curiosity
- Strengthens parent-child bonding
- Makes learning more meaningful and fun

Everyday Learning Opportunities

You can support learning through:

- Cooking – counting, measuring, reading recipes
- Shopping – money skills, asking questions, making choices
- Cleaning/Tidying – sorting, following instructions, naming items
- Talking and Listening – building vocabulary, storytelling, memory games
- Travel/Walking – spotting signs, numbers, nature vocabulary

Fun Engagement Strategies

- Play board games and card games (e.g., Uno, Snap, Ludo)
- Story time – let your child read to you, or act out characters
- Art and crafts – letters with playdough, drawing scenes from a story
- Music and songs – rhymes, alphabet songs, counting songs
- Role play – shop, restaurant, post office using real items

Tips for Parents

- Use your home language and English
- Keep it short and fun – 10 to 15 minutes daily is great

- Praise your child's effort, not just the result
- Use what you already have – no need for expensive toys
- Be patient and encouraging
